RECORD AS-BUILT CONFIGURATION ON SHIPPING DOCUMENT

Seller shall record as-built configuration information for each contracted line item on shipping document.

Note: This applies to all contracted line item types (e.g. new / modification / rework / repair / overhaul).

The as-built configuration information shall include part number and applicable drawing, data set, parts list, SPEC "O" and the associated item revision/change/modification level to which each contracted line item has been built.

When revision/change/modification level is specified by contract, Seller shall ensure the as-built configuration of contracted line item conforms to specified revision/change/modification level.

- Seller is to contact Buyer's Authorized Procurement Representative for resolution of differences between contract specified revision/change/ modification level and the as-built configuration.
- Seller is to ensure resolution of as-built configuration differences in advance of Seller request for Buyer verification (if required) and in any case prior to shipment.
