

Highlights as of October 14, 2020

- The U.S. Small Business Administration and the Treasury Department rolled out a simpler loan forgiveness application for Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) loans of $50,000 or less. SBA and Treasury have also eased the burden on PPP lenders, allowing lenders to process forgiveness applications more swiftly. SBA began approving PPP forgiveness applications and remitting forgiveness payments to PPP lenders for PPP borrowers on October 2, 2020.

Legislative Actions

Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) Update – Interim Rule

On June 10, the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the U.S. Department of the Treasury issued the 17th interim rule on the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), which was included in the CARES Act.

SBA and Treasury had previously issued guidance on PPP in furtherance of the terms outlined in the CARES Act. Subsequently, two months later, Congress passed the PPP Flexibility Act, which made significant changes to the program that applied retroactively to the date of the CARES Act. This SBA and Treasury guidance updates the original guidance released on April 2, 2020, to comply with the changes in the new PPP Flexibility Act.

The interim final rule updates the original rule relating to loan terms and loan forgiveness, which was adjusted under the Flexibility Act in the following ways:

- Covered Period for PPP loans – extends covered period from 6/30/2020 to 12/31/2020.
- Maturity Date for PPP loans – changes maturity date of loans contracted after 6/5/2020 to 5 years; loans contracted before 6/5/2020 can be extended from 2 years to 5 years if both borrower and lender agree.
- Deferral Period for PPP loans – updates loan forgiveness period from 8 weeks to 24 weeks and specifies that borrower has 10 months to apply for loan forgiveness after loan forgiveness period and no interest or principal payment is due until SBA remits forgiven amount to lender.
- Loan forgiveness – clarifies that the 60% of loan proceeds spent on employee wages to qualify for loan forgiveness is applied proportionally. If the full 60% of loan proceeds is not used for wages, some of the loan can still be forgiven.
- Use of PPP loan proceeds – expands the eligible uses of the loan proceeds to be used on payroll costs in order for the loan to be forgiven.
- Borrower Certification – describes what certification must be made in order to qualify for loan forgiveness.

Congressional Update

On April 21, the Senate passed by unanimous consent a COVID-19 “Phase 3.5” economic relief package valued at $484 billion. The House passed the bill on April 23 through a bipartisan vote and President Trump signed the bill into law on April 24.

This legislation will increase funding for programs created under the CARES Act, particularly the programs benefiting small businesses. With passage of this package, small businesses are able to obtain access to capital under the SBA’s Paycheck Protection Program, which ran out of funding last week.

The latest legislation includes:

- $321 billion in additional funding for SBA’s Paycheck Protection Program, $60 billion of which is dedicated to smaller lenders and community financial institutions;
- $10 billion in additional funding for the Economic Injury Disaster grants;
- $50 billion in additional funding for the Economic Injury Disaster loan program;
- $75 billion in additional funding for hospitals and health care systems; and
- $25 billion in funding for testing of COVID-19.

Notably, there was no funding for state and local governments included in this bill, but it will likely be considered by Congress’s next package – COVID Phase 4. The Senate has signaled that the next package will come after May 4, when both chambers of Congress are expected to return to the Capitol.

On June 3, the Senate passed by voice vote the “Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) Flexibility Act of 2020,” which previously passed the House on May 28, 2020 by a vote of 417-1. President Trump is signed the legislation into law on June 5. The bill modifies the PPP by extending the period in which the borrower is required to use the funding from 8 weeks to 24 weeks; extending the maturity date of the loan portion from 2 to 5 years; and lowering the amount of the loan that must be spent on employee wages in order to qualify for loan forgiveness from 75% to 60%. Additionally, the new bill allows PPP participants to defer payroll taxes and provide more flexibility for the requirement to retaining employees under the program’s rules.

On June 30 and July 1, both Chambers voted to extend PPP through August 8, 2020, agreeing to a “clean” extension of the program. The President signed the bill into law on July 4.

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act

The CARES Act includes:

- New Loan Program: $500 billion in broad-based program for loans, loan guarantees, and “other investments” for airlines ($25 billion), cargo ($4 billion), businesses critical to maintaining national security ($17 billion), and other “eligible industries” ($454 billion), of which Boeing and its suppliers could be eligible to apply for the latter two categories depending on forthcoming Department of Treasury guidance on eligibility and restrictions. Several restrictions will apply under the law on the loans, including: limitations on executive compensation, limitations on shareholder buybacks, employment level requirements, and limitations on dividends. There are further restrictions imposed based on the type of loan and size of business.
- Financial Assistance for Aviation Workers: $32 billion in eligible grants for salaries for aviation workers, including $25 billion for passenger carriers, $4 billion for cargo carriers, and $3 billion for contractors. Additional restrictions may apply to protect collective bargaining agreements.
- Tax Relief: Allows companies to take losses in 2020 and apply them to past tax returns, resulting in a tax refund, allows companies to defer paying some payroll taxes for at least a year, and waives airlines’ aviation taxes until 2021. There is also a payroll credit for certain eligible businesses, which includes tax credits for businesses who see a significant loss in gross receipts or for some wages paid to employees who are sent home and unable to work due to the coronavirus.
- Small Business Payroll Financial Assistance: The law enhances and expands SBA loan programs to cover a broader category of expenses, such as employee wages, mortgages, rents and utilities. Some or all of the loan could be forgiven depending on whether the funds are used to maintain current employment levels.
- Telehealth: Allows employers to offer telehealth to those enrolled in high-deductible health plans paired with a health savings account at no cost for the rest of 2020.
- Retirement: Retirement provisions to help savers through the crisis and help employers manage pension obligations.
- Federal Contract Authority: Ensures that federal contractors can continue to get paid and pay employees who are unable to perform work due to closures and are unable to telework.

Other highlights include:

- Taxpayers earning less than $99,000 to receive one-time payment of up to $1,200.
- $349 billion in small business loans to help cover payroll, salaries, rent, and other obligations;
- $150 billion for state and local governments;
- $150 billion in increased funding to hospitals and health care systems;
- Expanding and reforming unemployment insurance;
- Allowing employee retention credits; and
- Requiring health care plans to pay for COVID-19 testing without a fee for patients.
